Our Ask

The United Nations logo, featuring a world map surrounded by olive branches, is centered in the background of the slide.

“New and rapidly developing technologies, such as artificial intelligence, biotechnology, material sciences and robotics hold incredible promise for the advancement of human welfare. They also hold the potential to generate more inequality and more violence.”

UNSG’s Strategy on New Technologies, Sept 2018

“To ensure that the benefits of technological innovation are shared by all, we need policy responses and business decisions that are guided by the commitment to end extreme poverty, curb inequalities, and fast-track progress for the people who have been left furthest behind.”

UNDP Administrator, Sept 2018
